

2021 Advanced Anatomy and Injection Techniques

PROGRAM

Saturday, Sept. 11, 8:00 am-5:30 pm | Sunday, Sept. 12, 8:00 am-12:00 pm

Convene at One Liberty Plaza, New York, NY

Co-Directors

Vince Bertucci, MD, FRCPC and Sue Ellen Cox, MD

Invited Faculty

Sebastian Cotofana, MD, PhD, PhD; Sabrina Fabi, MD; Rebecca Fitzgerald, MD; Heidi Waldorf, MD; Susan Weinkle, MD; and guest faculty Leonie Schelke, MD, PhD

Course Description

Designed for more experienced cosmetic dermatologic surgeons, this course features current concepts of facial anatomy as it relates to injectable treatments to reduce complication risks. Live patient demonstrations as well as procedure "how to" videos of expert injectors will teach advanced techniques to restore volume and augment features, plus high yield anatomy and injection technique presentations, case studies and faculty discussion panels. Areas addressed will include:

- ♦ Anatomy and aging changes in skeletal and soft-tissue layers
- ♦ Panfacial volume restoration and shaping
- ♦ Advanced approaches based on structural tissue layers that improve outcomes while avoiding danger zones
- ♦ Avoiding and managing complications

Learning Objectives

Following this activity, participants should be able to:

- ♦ Describe the current concepts of aging changes in different structural tissue layers of the face and how that contributes to morphological changes seen with age in different facial regions.
- ♦ Identify potential complications and utilize avoidance and management strategies.
- ♦ Recognize numerous ways to analyze and treat patients that can minimize complications and enhance natural appearing results.

CME

11.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]

Please Note ...

- ♦ Face masks will be required for all attendees.
- ♦ No photos and no video or audio recording are allowed.
- ♦ Schedule and faculty are subject to change.
- ♦ By attendance and participation in this course, you agree to allow ASDS to use photos taken by ASDS at this course for future promotions of ASDS programs.

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION INFORMATION

ASDS CME Mission

The American Society for Dermatologic Surgery (ASDS) is an organization whose primary purpose is to promote optimal quality care for patients as well as support and develop investigative knowledge in the field of dermatologic surgery. The Society carries out this mission in order to further the interests and needs of the specialty, with the underlying purpose of contributing to the delivery of quality patient care in the ambulatory setting.

Accreditation Statement

The American Society for Dermatologic Surgery is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]

The American Society for Dermatologic Surgery designates this live activity for a maximum of 11.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ACGME/ABMS Desirable Physician Attributes / Competencies

The ASDS acknowledges the need for CME content to be designed within the context of desirable physician attributes as expressed by the ACGME/ABMS Core Competencies and the Dermatology Residency Committee. Aligned with Criterion #6 of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education's Provider Requirements for CME, the ASDS has developed the content of this educational activity to address the ACGME/ABMS Core Competencies:

- ◆ Patient Care that is compassionate, appropriate and effective for the treatment of health problems and the promotion of health.
- ◆ Medical Knowledge about established and evolving biomedical, clinical and cognate (e.g., epidemiological and social behavior) sciences and the application of this knowledge to patient care.
- ◆ Practice-based Learning and Improvement that involves investigation and evaluation of their own patient care, appraisal and assimilation of scientific evidence, and improvement in patient care.
- ◆ Interpersonal & Communication Skills that result in effective information exchange and teaming with patients, their families and other health professionals.
- ◆ Professionalism as manifested through a commitment to carry out professional responsibilities, adherence to ethical principles and sensitivity to a diverse patient population.
- ◆ Systems-based Practice as manifested by actions that demonstrate an awareness of and responsiveness to the larger context and system for health care and the ability to effectively call on system resources to provide care that is of optimal value.

Disclosure of Relevant Financial Relationships

It is the policy of ASDS that all faculty participating in a CME-certified activity are required to disclose to ASDS and to learners relevant financial relationships that they or their first-degree relative have prior to the start of the activity. "Relevant financial relationships" include financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 12 months. Typically such relationships would be with companies that sell health care products or services that are consumed by or used in the treatment of patients. The intent of disclosure is not to prevent participation in CME-certified activities by individuals with relevant financial relationships with commercial interest(s), but rather to provide learners with information so they can make their own determination on whether or not said relationship(s) influenced the content of the educational activity. Faculty and planner disclosure information is located on the final page of this program.

Faculty have also been asked to make a verbal disclosure at the start of their presentations, supplemented by a disclosure slide, to verify and/or update the disclosure information printed in the Final Program and to ensure disclosure information is shared with learners PRIOR to the presentation taking place.

Additionally, all learners/attendees who participate in question-and-answers or other discussions taking place in CME-certified activities are required to verbally disclose any relevant financial relationships. Members of industry that sit in on general educational sessions, where allowed, are silent observers and may not participate in any discussions or question-and-answers.

Resolution of Conflicts of Interest

In accordance with the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support of CME, ASDS has implemented mechanisms, prior to the planning and implementation of this CME activity, to identify and mitigate conflicts of interest for all individuals in a position to control the content of this CME activity.

Independence in CME

As a provider accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), ASDS is dedicated to providing continuing medical education that is independent, fair, balanced, objective and free of commercial bias. ASDS employs several strategies to ensure these standards will be met.

Unapproved Use Disclosure

ASDS requires faculty to disclose to attendees when products or procedures being discussed are off-label (not approved for the indications being discussed), unlabeled (not approved for any indications), experimental, and/or investigational (not FDA approved); and any limitations on the information that is presented, such as data that are preliminary or that represent ongoing research, interim analyses, and/or unsupported opinion. This information is intended solely for continuing medical education and is not intended to promote off-label use of these products/procedures. If you have questions, contact the medical affairs department of the manufacturer for the most recent approval information. Faculty at this meeting will be discussing information about pharmaceutical agents that is outside of U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved labeling.

Disclaimer

ASDS is not responsible for statements made by faculty. Statements or opinions expressed in this educational activity are the views of the faculty and do not reflect the official policy of ASDS. The information provided at this CME activity is for continuing education purposes only and is not meant to substitute for the independent medical judgment of a healthcare provider relative to the diagnostic, management and treatment options of a specific patient's medical condition.
