

Biography: Alisa Patterson, P.E.

Water Availability Division
Texas Commission on Environmental Quality

Current Position

Alisa Patterson, P.E., is a hydrologist for the Surface Water Availability Team.

Prior Experience and Education

Alisa Patterson, P.E., has a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Engineering and a Master of Environmental Engineering from Texas Tech University. Ms. Patterson began her career as an engineering consultant and has worked on a variety of different water resources projects including water rights permitting and water availability modeling. Ms. Patterson joined the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality's Water Availability Division as a hydrologist for the Surface Water Availability Team in October of 2015.

Contact Information

Telephone: (512) 239-4613

E-mail: alisa.patterson@tceq.texas.gov