	FBI Expands its Use of FirstNet for Mobility Services The FBI is expanding its usage of FirstNet, awarding AT&T* a mobility contract for additional FirstNet capabilities to support the FBI's day-to-day and emergency operations. The agreement, valued at approximately $92 million, is the largest commitment to FirstNet by a law enforcement or public safety agency. Click here for details - Fiercewireless.com. A special message from FirstNet Built with AT&T This past year has been difficult for most people. But for law enforcement on the frontlines, it's been especially tough. We've heard that officers feel most comfortable when they can talk to other officers about what they are experiencing, in an anonymous, non-work related environment. The ResponderRel8 chat app designed by the All Clear Foundation provides you with a digital application you can use to connect with other first responders who know just what it's like to be first on scene. Check out the ResponderRel8 app in the iTunes and Google Play store. It's FirstNet Listed, so you know you are getting a tool built for First Responders, https://responderrel8.com/
